

The Old Mill

The Upper Freehold Historic Farmland Scenic Byway is one of New Jersey's eight scenic byways, transportation corridors that have outstanding scenic, natural, recreational, cultural, historic or archaeological significance. Together, the byways tell stories about New Jersey's history, natural features, recreational opportunities and beauty.

A Captivating Cultural Experience

Feel like you're travelling through time as you discover historic homes, meeting houses, mills and much more while exploring working farms and taking in local culture on peaceful country roads. Right here in New Jersey.

Just imagine the discoveries you can make along the byway

Authentic local culture

Annual festivals and tours

Experience local culture by attending an annual festival or tour—there are some that honor historic days, showcase flowers, demonstrate technologies of past centuries and others that take you on a journey through hidden places.

Charming historic town

For a real glimpse of small-town charm, visit the Allentown Historic District, one of the largest contiguous historic districts in New Jersey. With numerous sites, crossroads, farmsteads and agricultural districts to visit, you'll get a full view of the region's historic and agricultural past. As you explore, don't miss Allentown's charming Main Street or the historic district in Imlaystown for pure family fun.

Dining on the byway

Excite your taste buds and stop by a local restaurant. Check out a cafe for a great meal or a quick snack.

Holland Ridge Farms

History you can find only here

Have you ever wondered what colonial living was like? The byway is home to dozens of historic sites that are bound to engage your imagination.

Fill your visit with historic significance

Visit Historic Walnford, the home built in 1773, the 19th-century gristmill and the farm buildings set in a beautiful landscape that were once owned by a prominent Quaker merchant. With original tools, furniture, journal entries and portraits on display, you'll feel immersed in the history of the Waln family and the property they once owned.

As you traverse the byway, stop at the Old Yellow Meeting House and tour the cemetery. Here you'll find graves dating back to before the American Revolution.

Experience nature

Breathe in the fresh air and savor the remote, quiet and peaceful surroundings that the byway has to offer.

Recreation that inspires

Go walking, birding, carriage driving, horseback riding, bicycling and sightseeing. Enjoy sun-drenched open space landscapes and observe wildlife in nature at sites like the Union Transportation Trail. Try your hand at fishing in Conine's Mill Pond. The most popular catches here are Largemouth bass, Chain pickerel, and Yellow bullhead. You'll be surprised that this tranquil respite is only a few turns away from suburban living.
